DEAR FRIENDS,

In my 33 years with RefugeeOne, there has never been one like this.

Thankfully, you were there with us through it all.

You stood with us at O’Hare Airport as families were reunited and given the opportunity to begin again, welcoming a record 728 individuals—nearly half of whom were children. You set up apartments, raised money, and volunteered at record levels, investing your valuable time to help refugees learn English and adjust to their new home.

You were back at O’Hare in January when the new president attempted to ban Muslim refugees and immigrants from 7 countries. You spoke up to your elected officials to let them know our country must remain a place of refuge. And you spoke with your friends and family, dispelling myths and telling them about the incredible contributions refugees bring to our nation and economy.

You hired hardworking refugees and helped restore their dignity by giving them the opportunity to provide for their families. You set up apartments, raised money, and volunteered at record levels, investing your valuable time to help refugees learn English and adjust to their new home.

We couldn’t have done it without you.

Together, we helped refugees build the foundation for flourishing, integrated lives in the U.S. And when the federal resettlement program slowed down, you helped us pick up speed to offer programs that will ensure refugees succeed.

Like the refugees we serve, RefugeeOne is resilient. We will ensure refugees succeed.

We stand strong.

Like the refugees we serve, RefugeeOne is resilient. We are, thanks to you.
